Axis V - Level of Functioning

Axis V is used to indicate the clinician's overall judgment of a person's psychological, social, and occupational functioning using the Global Assessment of Functioning Scale (GAF Scale) that assesses mental health-illness.

Ratings on the GAF Scale should be made for two time periods:

- (1) Current - the level of functioning at the time of the evaluation.
- (2) Past year - the highest level of functioning for at least a few months during the past year. For children and adolescents, this should include at least a month during the school year.

Ratings of current functioning should reflect the current need for treatment or care.

Ratings of highest level of functioning during the past year may have prognostic significance, because usually a person returns to his or her previous level of functioning after an episode of illness.

Global Assessment of Functioning Scale (GAF Scale)

Consider psychological, social, and occupational functioning on a hypothetical continuum of mental health-illness. Do not include impairment in functioning due to physical (or environmental) limitations.

Note: Use intermediate codes when appropriate, e.g., 45, 68, 72.

| 21 - 30 | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Behavior is considerably influenced by delusions or hallucinations or• Serious impairment in communication or judgment (e.g., sometimes incoherent, acts grossly inappropriately, suicidal preoccupation) or• Inability to function in almost all areas (e.g., stays in bed all day; no job, home or friends). |

- 31 - 40 • Some impairment in reality testing or communication (e.g., speech is at times illogical, obscure or irrelevant) or
• Major impairment in several areas, such as work or school, family relations, judgment, thinking or mood (e.g., depressed man avoids friends, neglects family, and is unable to work; child frequently beats up younger children, is defiant at home, and is failing at school).
- 41 - 50 • Serious symptoms (e.g., suicidal ideation, severe obsessional rituals, frequent shoplifting) or • Any serious impairment in social, occupational, or school functioning (e.g., no friends, unable to keep a job).
- 51 - 60 • Moderate symptoms (e.g., flat affect and circumstantial speech, occasional panic attacks) or
• Moderate difficulty in social, occupational, or school functioning (e.g., few friends, conflicts with co-workers).
- 61 - 70 • Some mild symptoms (e.g., depressed mood and mild insomnia) or
• Some difficulty in social, occupational, or school functioning (e.g., occasional truancy, or theft within the household), but generally functioning pretty well, has some meaningful interpersonal relationships.
- 71 - 80 • If symptoms are present, they are transient and expectable reactions to psychosocial stressors (e.g., difficulty concentrating after family argument);
• No more than slight impairment in social, occupational or school functioning (e.g., temporarily falling behind in school work).
- 81 - 90 • Absent or minimal symptoms (e.g., mild anxiety before an exam), good functioning in all areas, interested and involved in a wide range of activities, socially effective, generally satisfied with life, no more than everyday problems or concerns (e.g., an occasional argument with family members).
- 91 - 99 • Superior functioning in a wide range of activities, life's problems never seem to get out of hand, is sought out by others because of his or her many positive qualities. No symptoms.
